Health services under siege: the case for clinical process redesign

The authors would like to acknowledge the New South Wales Government's funding of the NSW Health Clinical Services Redesign Program and an additional 1800 beds over 3 years.

In addition, the strong support and commitment from the NSW Area Health Services Chief Executives and staff has been vital for the achievements outlined in these articles.

Acknowledgements

Clinical process redesign relies on a high degree of collaboration between many parties (including frontline staff, clinical leaders, senior management, patients and carers), as well as the contribution of expertise from external partners.

Without the dedication and hard work of all these people, clinical process redesign would not be possible. It is their work which is described in the articles in this supplement and we thank them all for their contributions.
