

THE ABSENCE OF MANY VOICES IN PROTEST

Australian medicine faces a life-threatening disease in the form of an unprecedented grab for control by governments. Its latest symptom is the potential hijacking of the profession's control over self-regulation and education. These are slated to become the responsibilities of committees in which doctors will have less influence. The extent of the hijack will become clearer when the Council of Australian Governments establishes a national body to register and set competency standards for doctors and other health professionals, and a national accreditation body to establish standards for their education. With these developments, what will be the fate of medical boards, medical colleges and the Australian Medical Council?

This grab for control is a worldwide phenomenon, as "the regulation of the medical profession is subjected to unprecedented, and growing, public debate, increasing intervention in the daily professional activities of physicians, and increasing oversight by the central state".* A recent World Medical Association press release warned that the WMA's Secretary General believed that "...by steady steps, governments were taking away degrees of freedom from the profession's self governing bodies. 'And this is not a cosmetic change — it means democratic participation is being dismantled. We've seen it across Europe, we've seen it in New Zealand, in Hong Kong and elsewhere,' he said. 'This is something that is going on very silently, with small steps in many countries'". And he may well have added we are seeing it in Australia.

But where are the many voices in protest? There seems to be little in the way of overwhelming public response to Australian medicine's life-threatening disease. Could it be that doctors support the reforms, or have become fatigued by their never ending tussles with governments to maintain self-governance? The absence of many voices in public protest may well seal the fate of the profession's independence.

Martin B Van Der Weyden

*Moran M. The British regulatory state: high modernism and hyper-innovation. Oxford: Oxford University Press, 2003.

LETTERS

- Organ donation from prison
156 Elizabeth Magee, Michael H Levy
- Registering wishes about organ donation may decrease the number of donors
156 Mitchell Lawlor, Frank A Billson
- Potential for organ donation in Victoria: an audit of hospital deaths
157 Deepak Bhonagiri, Patricia Wills
- Suicide mortality data need revision
157 Diego De Leo
- An unusual cause of severe metabolic acidosis
158 Mark A Boyd, Stephen Hedger
158 John V Peter, Natasha Rogers, Sandra L Peake
- Performance indicators of a primary care skin cancer clinic network
159 Deborah A Askew, David Wilkinson, Gordon L Patrick
- The psychosocial impact of prostate cancer on patients and their partners
159 James A Smith, Shaun M Filiault, Murray J Drummond, Robert J Knapman
160 Jeremy W Couper

106 IN THIS ISSUE

155 IN OTHER JOURNALS

Looking Good

The Australian guide to skin care, cosmetic medicine and cosmetic surgery

Dr Laurence Anderson
your guide to looking great!

The Australian guide to skin care, cosmetic medicine and cosmetic surgery, by Dr Laurence Anderson

Illustrated with before and after photographs showing the work of Australian practitioners.

This up-to-the-minute guide will help you make an informed choice:

- What are your best options for cosmetic repair?
- What do cosmetic procedures cost?
- What are the risks and benefits?
- What lasts — and what doesn't!

$29.95*

*Add $7.65 for Postage & Handling • Includes GST

Considering having a cosmetic procedure? Read this book first to save time, trouble, and money. Dr Anderson begins with practical advice on maintaining a healthy skin and protecting yourself from the effects of ageing, before going on to describe the latest options in cosmetic medicine and surgery.

For more information contact Julie Chappell at AMPCo:
Ph 02 9562 6666
Email sales@ampco.com.au
Web www.mja.com.au/public/bookroom/

A new Australian publication from MJABooks

Softcover • 112+pp
245 x 176mm
*AMA Members/Students receive a 10% discount.

To ORDER, or for further information, contact the Book Sales Coordinator:
AMPCo, Australasian Medical Publishing Co. Ltd. ACN 20 000 005 854
Locked Bag 3030 Strawberry Hills NSW 2012. Ph 02 9562 6666 • Fax 02 9562 6662

To: Dr/Mr/Ms: .....

Address: .....

Postcode: .....

Ph: (Bus) ..... Fax: .....

Cheque/MO enclosed OR  Charge my Credit Card  Bankcard
 MasterCard  Diners  Amex  Visa  AMA Member/Student

Account No. ....

Expiry Date: ...../..... Name: .....

Signature: .....

YOU CAN FAX YOUR CREDIT CARD ORDERS TO OUR 24 HOUR FAX LINE (02) 9562 6662

(*All prices subject to change without notice. Errors and omissions excepted)