EDITORIALS

131 Tuberculosis: the dis-ease that didn't dis-appear
Ivan Bastian, Vicki L Krause

133 In the long run, skills are as good as pills for attention deficit hyperactivity disorder
Joseph M Rey

RESEARCH

135 Clinical outcomes of Queensland children with cystic fibrosis: a comparison between tertiary centre and outreach services
Clare L Thomas, Peter K O'Rourke, Claire E Wainwright

140 Risk of suicide in cancer patients in Western Australia, 1981–2002
Nigel R C Dormer, Kieran A McCaul, Linda J Kristjanson

PUBLIC HEALTH

144 Tuberculosis in illegal foreign fishermen: whose public health are we protecting?
Natalie J Gray, Meredith Hansen-Knarhoi, Vicki L Krause

148 Evidence of primary transmission of multidrug-resistant tuberculosis in the Western Province of Papua New Guinea
Christopher M Gilpin, Graham Simpson, Stephen Vincent, Terry P O'Brien, Trevor A Knight, Maria Globan, Christopher Coulter, Anastasios Konstantinos

153 Recurrence of tuberculosis at a Sydney chest clinic between 1994 and 2006: reactivation or reinfection?
Claudia C Dobler, Guy B Marks, Sheila E Simpson, A B Hamish Crawford

156 Methaemoglobinemia following ingestion of a commonly available food additive
Peter Maric, Sayed S Ali, Leon G Heron, David Rosenfeld, Matthew Greenwood

HEALTH CARE

159 Defining remote medical practice
Janie D Smith, Stephen A Margolis, Jeff Ayton, Victoria Ross, Elizabeth Chalmers, Patrick Giddings, Louise Baker, Martin Kelly, Catherine Love

VIEWPOINT

162 To routinely offer testing for HIV infection in all cases of tuberculosis: a rational clinical approach?
Carol R Emerson, Jeffrey J Post

LESSONS FROM PRACTICE

164 Joined at the hip: rheumatoid arthritis and tuberculosis
David Massasso, Kevin Lee, Praneal Sharma, Fredrick Joshua

166 Granulomatous hepatitis: tuberculosis or not?
Eu Jin Lim, Paul D R Johnson, Peter Crowley, Paul J Gow

CLINICAL UPDATE

168 Tumour necrosis factor α inhibitors: screening for tuberculosis infection in inflammatory bowel disease
Arun Gupta, Alan C Street, Finlay A Macrae

171 The prevention and management of herpes zoster
Anthony L Cunningham, Judith Breuer, Dominic E Dwyer, David W Gronow, Robert D Helme, John C Litt, Myron J Levin, Raina C MacIntyre

MEDICAL EDUCATION

177 Vocational career paths of graduate entry medical students at Flinders University: a comparison of rural, remote and tertiary tracks
Paul Worley, Anne Martin, David Prideaux, Richard Woodman, Elizabeth Worley, Michael Lowe

179 Medical schools can cooperate: a new joint venture to provide medical education in the Northern Rivers region of New South Wales
Sue L Page, Hudson H Birden, J Nicky Hudson, Jill E Thistlethwaite, Chris Roberts, Ian Wilson, John Bushnell, John Hogg, S Ben Freedman, Neville Yeomans

FOR DEBATE

182 “Let’s not talk about sex”: reconsidering the public health approach to sexually transmissible infections in remote Indigenous populations in Australia
Francis J Bowden, Katherine Fethers

MATTERS ARISING AND LETTERS

186 (contents overleaf)
From the Editor's Desk

PREOCCUPATION WITH DOCTORS

The beginning of a new year is usually a time for reflection. While personal reflections are private and idiosyncratic, professional reflections tend to be public and collective, and doctors have recently been subjected to unprecedented public scrutiny.

We are exhorted to pursue integrity, compassion, altruism and excellence, and to work in partnership with members of the wider health care team. We have been scrutinised by working parties of the Canadian Medical Association and Canadian clinical Colleges; the Royal College of Physicians (London); and a combined body of the European Federation of Internal Medicine, the American College of Physicians–American Society of Internal Medicine and the American Board of Internal Medicine. The Royal Australasian College of Physicians has also recently released a Code of Professional Behaviour.

The essence of their reports is best captured in the words of the US physician Christine Cassel as being related to: “self-governance individually and as a group; service to the poor without expectation of compensation; deliverance of quality; not ripping people off; high level of learning; autonomy of activity; altruism with a certain threadbare nobility; self-sacrifice; heroism as needed; and ethical practice with public accountability.”

Add to all this the need for doctors to have essential character values,* such as an understanding of history; an appreciation of literature and the arts; honesty and personal integrity; the grace of humility; faith in life’s meaning and value; compassion; an appreciation of the virtue of work; and willing submission to an ethical code.

Remember the fabled Martian, who when asked at the midpoint of the 20th century “Whither medicine?” replied: “Why, whither else than straight ahead; forging still more weapons with which to conquer disease”. Were he to visit us today, would he not ask: “What is going on here? Why all this intense preoccupation with professionalism in the face of medicine’s stupendous advances?”